ATTENDED SEMINAR

Mattapoisett Selectman David N. Haley attended a Water Pollution Seminar at the Highland Country Club, Attleboro on Monday. The Seminar was held to acquaint managers of manufacturing industries in the northeast area with recent enactments by Federal and State on water quality control requirements and the steps to meet new stands.

LETTER FROM SELECTMEN TO CHAIRMAN OF BOARD OF HEALTH

At the Tuesday, February 21st, Mattapoisett Selectmen's meeting two matters concerning the Health Department were brought up and the Board of Selectmen wrote the following letters to the Board of Health chairman, Dr. Albert York, concerning the Town Dump and shellfishing at Crescent Beach in order to bring these matters to the attention of the Board of Health.

CONCERNING SHELLFISHING

No doubt, you received a copy of a letter sent to Dr. Joseph Kunces from the State Department of Public Health on the effect the Old Rochester Regional High School sewage treatment plant has had on the shellfish at Crescent Beach.

The State Department of Public Health, as no doubt you noted, states that this is not the source of pollution to the stream nor to the shellfish area at Crescent Beach.

Since the State Department of Public Health has advised us that we would have to get clearance from the Mattapoisett Board of Health to open up the Crescent Beach and Pico Beach area for shellfishing, we would like to have you advise us if this can be done this coming Spring.

As you know this area has been closed for several years and it has been nothing but a political football between the State and Town Departments of Public Health. Neither is taking the responsibility for cleaning up the area.

Now, both the State Department of Public Health and the Department of Marine Fisheries state that this should be taken care of by the local Department of Public Health.

We sincerely hope that you can help us out on this matter so that this large area can be opened up for shellfishing.

Camelot TREAT FOR EYES

"CAMELOT" PRESENTED AT ORRHS

The color and pageantry of the legendary court of King Arthur was recreated on the stage of Old Rochester Regional High School to the enjoyment of appreciative audiences last week. The Lerner and Loewe musical, "Camelot", was the most elaborately stage play in the series presented by the Music Department of the school, under the direction of Zavan Mazmanian. It was a lavish display of scenic effects and costuming, and displayed some very striking lighting and special effects for the enchanted forest.

Camelot, which featured such talented performers as Julie Andrews, Richard Burton and Robert Goulet in the original cast, is the most ambitious challenge that the Old Rochester performers have attempted.

Ward Abronski, playing King Arthur, was excellent in a lengthy part. His accent, diction and acting were always clear and believable as he portrayed the central character. As Arthur, he forms the round table on an ideal only to see it destroyed by human failings.

Corrine Sylvia starred as Arthur's Queen Guenevere. She plays the young bride in love with her husband king. She first inspires Arthur only to betray him for the love of his best friend, Lancelot. Corrine performed with poise and confidence. She was attractive in a series of very beautiful costumes. With Ward Abronski in "What do the Simple Folk Do?", Corrine was at her best in a number which delighted the audience.

Lancelot, that handsome, strong and pure knight, was played by Allen Roderiques who fit into the role and brought it to life. His acting and voice were strong and sure.

Comedy was David Helfand's department and he really enjoyed the part of Pellinore, the aging knight. He generated many a laugh as did his partner, Clancy, the Irish Setter who went bugeyed every time Pellinore's armor clanked.

David Boyce played two separate roles. His Merlyn was well done and his Mordred was particularly fine. As the force of destruction he was wonderfully evil and sounded like a carbon of Roddy McDowell, who created the role of Mordred on Broadway.

In a supporting role, Marion Fernandes sang "Follow Me", as Ninue, the wood nymph. Her voice was like velvet in this all too brief appearance.

Laureeann Empey was a talented sorceress as Morgan LeFay. She choreographed the dancing sequences which pleased the audiences.

The outer stage was decorated by the school's art department. The stylized castle added to the mood and suggested that the school's imagination and talent might very well be used to create much or all of the scenery to use in these productions.

Others in the cast included: Douglas McGarvey as Sir Dinadan; Warren Washburn, Sir Lionel; Merton Howes, Dap (Lancelot's squire); Marion Gibbs, Lady Sybil; Clifford Hedges, Sir Sagramore; Stephanie Stokes, Lady Anne; James Hartley, Priest; Jeffrey Anderson, Tom Worthy master, Mark Harris, presided at the business meeting, extended a welcome to the 16 members of Watuppa Junior Grange, and all present.

Reports were given by Harlene Fearing, conservation chairman, who suggested shaking the snow off of the very young trees they are trying to grow. Also, to remember to feed the birds.

Mary Alcobia, Home and Community Service chairman, announced she was selling homemade cookies from her table, proceeds to help with her community work.

Many, many canceled stamps were brought in that Mary will send to the Missionary Sisters in Waltham to help carry on their work with the proceeds they will obtain from the sale of the stamps.

A gift of a check was presented to the Juniors by the worthy master of Sippican Pomona, Paul Ouellette, for the birthday of Mattapoisett Junior Grange. A report was given on the program the Juniors presented last Tuesday night at Acushnet Grange. The worthy Flora presented her Floral collection to the Juniors.

Mrs. Mildred LeBaron thanked the Juniors and complimented them on the fine demonstration they presented for the members of Acushnet Grange. The program was planned and presented by the lecturer, Joseph Alves, as follows: A poem, "A Stand for Freedom", was by Mary Alcobia; composition on "Anatomy" by Joseph Alves; story about "Peanut Butter" given by Mark Harris. A true and false quiz on Washington's monument was conducted by the lecturer, Joseph Alves. Lincoln's Gettysburg Address was by lecturer Alves. Mr. Walter Caswell accompanied him on the piano. Mark Harris, Joseph Carson and John Alves sang the Battle Hymn of the Republic. Miss Rebecca Day, lecturer of Acushnet Grange, presented the Junior master with a check for the Juniors.

The lecturer presented Robert Brenneke, president of the Bristol County Dog Training Club of Massachusetts, who put on a fine program of all types of dogs and how they are trained. It was very much enjoyed by the many Juniors present as well as the adults.

The birthday cake, made by the master's mother, Mrs. James Harris, was cut and served by the worthy master, Mark Harris. He was assisted by his officers. Cake, cookies and punch concluded the 32nd birthday of Mattapoisett Junior Grange No. 43.

GRANGE MEETING

The bi-monthly Mattapoisett Grange meeting will be held this Thursday night with the worthy master, Susan Bence, presiding. The lecturer's program is in charge of Earle Wilson. Refreshments will be served by Mrs. Joseph Furtado and Mrs. Jennie Toolis. A 50-year member will be honored.

CLIFFORD I. TRIPP WATER COMMISSIONER

I've been asked many times my reasons for running for Water Commissioner. My one reason for running for any public office is a desire to help.

I have more knowledge of the responsibilities of the Water Department as compared to other Departments - and what better area is there to get one's feet wet in Town affairs?

There is much that can be done to help Mattapoisett solve its "Growing Pains" problems and much that must be done to prevent pricing ourselves out of existence.

I ask of you two things.
1. Your support at the Polls Monday, March 6, 1967.
2. Above all, regardless of your choice, VOTE Monday, March 6, 1967.

Representing Old Rochester Regional as Business Office Manager is Robert J. Souza, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Souza of Fairhaven Road, Mattapoisett. Robert is an office aide at Old Rochester and during the summer of 1966 he completed a course in "World of Computers" at Rodman Job Corps Center. He has been a member of the football team and Audio-Visual Aide in his sophomore and junior years at Old Rochester Regional High.

The Telfad program originated on Cape Cod by New England Telephone, to bring the high school senior into a multi-management corporation and expose them to the functions of a large company and stimulate their incentive to further their education and develop their full potential to insure their future in the business world.

During the two days of activities the Telfad students will actually "take over" the supervisory positions they have been selected for and perform all the required procedures involved in the successful operation of their specific department.

A luncheon will be held at the New Bedford Hotel, commencing with a student discussion panel, which will be organized, supervised and participated in by the Telfad students, themselves.

Telfad certificates and awards will be presented to each student and the first Telfad program in the New Bedford area will close with pertinent remarks to the participating students, by New England Telephone management.

"THE FANTASTICKS" AT ART CENTER

The Fantasticks opened May 3, 1960 at the Sullivan Street Playhouse in New York City. It broke all records by running for six years. It is a unique original musical written especially for off-Broadway. The theater at the Marion Art Center is perfect in size and atmosphere for this production. Utilizing a small cast and a plain wood platform, the play attempts to create its own world through music and words. When night is needed, a cardboard moon is hung, but for the most part, The Fantasticks creates a certain moonlight of the mind. Its use of satire and romanticism, bright comedy and serious verse make it rewarding and moving entertainment.

poisett on Wednesday, February 22nd. More than 80 persons were examined in this sight conservation program. The professional volunteers who did the testing were Dr. Donald L. Nahigyan, Dr. John Dias of New Bedford, Dr. George Watson, Dr. David MacFarlane of Marion, Dr. Clayton King and Mrs. Murray DeCoffe of Mattapoisett. The testing was done at the Center School and at Dr. King's office on Church Street.

Other volunteers taking part in the program were Mrs. Rodney W. Perkins, R.N. and Mr. and Mrs. Donald H. Chase.

Dr. Dias is shown in the photos as he tests for indication of glaucoma. The instrument used is a small sensitive scale attached to a plunger which is activated by its own weight. When the plunger rests on the eye it indicates the fluid pressure within the eye by registering its weight when supported by the eyeball. This indicates the tension. The test is absolutely painless, takes only a minute and it is very valuable to detect glaucoma in its early stages so that treatment can be started to prevent blindness.

Special additive in today's Shell Heating Oil helps give more warmth per gallon, top heating performance

There's a new additive in today's Shell Heating Oil. Called FOA-5X, this Shell product works round the clock to protect your fuel system-from storage tank to burner head. FOA-5X helps reduce build up of heat-robbing deposits that can collect in critical areas of your burner. It lets Shell Heating Oil burn in a radiant, even flame. It helps reduce service calls and expense. The result: more warmth per gallon of fuel-top performance at minimum cost. Before you buy your next gallon of heating oil, call us. We will give you complete details about Shell Heating Oil with FOA-5X and about our service.
